Chapter 113 Members,

The scholarship application deadline is fast approaching. Have you encouraged young aviation oriented students you know to apply?

You are the most logical and vital link to that next generation of aviators, technicians and "plane" lovers of the sport. Attached is a copy of the member-sponsored application. Any questions; call or email me.

Paulson Aviation Library

Barb Cook (734) 277-3469

Finally I have approached the most important books in our library: THE HOMEBUILDERS SHELVES (all 3 of them.) The proper number is 629.134 (aircraft details)

I'm starting with the books by FAA, EAA, and individuals, dealing with engines.

Those will have the number 629.134 352

Next I'll do the books dealing with Fabric and Metal Coverings. Many of these are EAA publications (like the one pictured here) written by Paul Poberezny.

There are also books on wood and metal construction, and yet another group dealing with electronics, radios, and instruments.

We have many technical and textbooks in this section too, as well as tips and "How To" books.

Watch next month for a complete listing of the newly cataloged books in this section.

Having reached Bob Paulson's goal of 2000 items in our library, our library crew has added 128 more items, and we're still working hard and welcoming more donations.

President's Podium

Tom Smith (734) 748-7940

Spring is here once again, and I know everyone wants to get their plane out and start flying more now in the good weather. I know I am- I just put my Sportstar back together and am going to be making up for lost time.

We recently held our annual awards banquet, with 70 members and friends in attendance. Dan Jones, our new member from Williams International, received a first flight plaque for his RV-9. I can't wait from him top bring it to Mettetal from its current home in Utah. I also want to thank Todd Trainor from Chapter 384 in Brighton for entertaining us with his "Flying Feud" game.

Father's Day is coming up fast. We will need a large number of volunteers to make this a successful fundraiser, so reserve the date, June 20th, for some work and some fun. This is our major fundraising event, as well as when we present the chapter scholarships. Invite your friends to join us for a great breakfast. Contact John Maxfield if you can help. Also, on June 5th, there will be a Make a Wish fundraiser benefit at Mettetal for Neuroblastoma. They are planning on having a motorcycle rally, music, food, and kid games. For more information, go to www.blastnb.com.

We have been getting several new members and guests attending our monthly meetings. If you see a new face, be sure to introduce yourself and make them welcome.

If you have any suggestions for a monthly speaker, please contact Jim Trick. Also, Pat Charles is in need of articles and pictures to include in this newsletter. Let him know how your projects are progressing.
